§ SUMMARY

I ship production software through AI-augmented engineering workflows. Pairing fluent prompt engineering with end-to-end architectural understanding, I design and deliver payment-integrated platforms, multi-channel automation bots, and security tooling at unusual speed. Certified Ethical Hacker (CEH) with hands-on penetration testing and enterprise IT systems administration background. I think in systems, write in specs, and orchestrate modern AI tooling alongside traditional engineering practice — moving faster than conventional development cycles without compromising on technical rigor or security awareness.
